The Providence Election.

There was on Friday last another trial, and another failure to fill the vacancies in the Representative ticket in the city of Providence.

The unfortunate differences existing between members of the same party, which have occasioned one portion of it to seek to obtain a triumph over the other, without success, have arisen as near as we can appreciate, as follows, to wit:—Prior to the April election, primary meetings were called, as usual, in the several wards of the city, to elect delegates to a City Convention to nominate candidates for the General Assembly.

The delegates were chosen, and the City Convention met. They nominated Mr. Doyle, from one of the wards, to be supported for Senator, and then passed a resolution authorizing in effect three of the delegates from each of the other wards, to nominate for the convention, two persons, to be supported as candidates for Representatives. In this way the ticket was made up.

In the Convention to nominate a candidate for Mayor last year, Mr. Doyle's claims were submitted in opposition to those of Mr. Stephen T. Olney. Olney was the successful candidate before the Convention, and he was elected to the office in several contests. In defeating the election, and finally, Olney retired from the field.

The friends of Olney, exasperated by the defeat of their favorite, by the failure of Doyle to recognize the obligation of the Convention last year, claimed that the Convention of this year, had no right to bind them to the support of a candidate, who did not recognize the binding obligation of the caucus system.

Another class of persons claimed that the Convention exceeded its power, when it delegated three persons to nominate candidates which the party had selected some twenty-eight or thirty men to nominate, and that the nomination was therefore made without authority, and was void.

Those opposed to the first nomination, though not entirely new nomination, and the claims of the candidates of the two Conventions were submitted to the people, and upon the first and second trials the Representatives were elected.

It is alleged, that, at these trials, fraud was practiced in numbering the tickets, by persons anxious to defeat candidates, and this has further complicated the difficulties.

From the footing of the votes upon the amendments to the City Charter, from the irregular convention at Howard Hall, from the fact that certain democratic councilmen were elected in two wards of the city; and from an article in the Tribune of Friday last, and what we gather from the Journal and other sources, we are reluctantly forced to the conclusion, that there was an attempt at a union with the Democrats, by one of the contending parties on Friday.

Now we are entirely content that our Providence friends, who want and get all the offices, should have a river which runs North and South, and has an East and a West side. That they should have little differences to settle, about "regular nomination," and as to whether or not a Convention can bind its constituents to support a candidate for an office, when the candidate himself does not recognize the existence of such a power in the Convention. But we, as the organ of the "true Republican party," most solemnly protest against any Republicans trading with the Democrats.

The Republicans are altogether too innocent to embark in any such enterprise. The Democrats never make bargains unless they get the best of it. Though the son of Dr. Franklin was long an humble supplicant for his father's pardon, in his will the Doctor left plenty evidence that he never fully forgave him for going over to the enemy. If this great philosopher could not forgive such an offence, what can our Providence friends expect of us?

We don't like his Democracy, but we must confess we like the spirit of Henry J. Burroughs, in stepping in to give the parties fair play. It is true, that this is the spirit of "let them alone"—"let them fight it out"; but it is better to do so, than to have any treason in the camp.

Is it true, as we have heard it whispered, that though the votes are about equally divided between these factions of the party, that one of them proposed to the other, that the Senator and two of the Representatives might be withdrawn from either ticket, and be supplied by the other party, and a ticket thus made up from both parties which should receive the support of both; and that this proposition was rejected? What say our friends of the Tribune and the Journal to this?

The amount of specie accumulations in the banks of New York and Boston at this time is not far from fifty millions of dollars.

LOCAL NEWS.

The first number of the Newport Musical Journal, a paper which we believe, is to be occasionally issued by the members of the "Institute," is ready for gratuitous distribution this morning. We have been favored with a perusal of the proof sheets, and can bear satisfactory testimony to their excellent character. The Journal is understood to be the forerunner of that Grand Concert, which, in behalf of the "Institute," we promised our readers last week. The design originated, of course, in the untiring spirit of Mr. Tourjee, for whom we shall ever desire the most unqualified success.

The following communication from the Superintendent of the Coast Survey to the Secretary of the Treasury, contains the Sailing Directions for entering St. George's Sound, Florida, by the West Pass.

SAVANNAH, GA., April 12, 1858.

SIR—I have the honor to communicate, for the consideration of the Light-house Board, an extract from a report recently made by Lieut. Comdr. J. K. Duer, U. S. N., Assistant in the Coast Survey, at present engaged in the hydrography of St. George's Sound, Fla.

"The Coast Survey signal situated on the easternmost point of St. Vincent's island, at the west pass of St. George's Sound has been made a beacon, and may be used as a guide by vessels drawing less than eleven feet water."

I would respectfully suggest, that this point be marked in a permanent manner, so that the beacon may be replaced if washed away in a single—an occurrence by no means unlikely, as it is situated on a low sand beach. A durable beacon erected here would be very serviceable to coasters as well as to the pilots of the place.

The directions hereto appended, if strictly observed, will carry vessels of the above limit of draught safely in, thus saving the time and distance unavoidable in following the regular channel.

To enter West Pass, St. George's Sound, with vessels drawing less than eleven feet water: With the light house on Cape St. George bearing east, (by compass), and when in four or four and a half fathoms, bring the beacon on St. Vincent's island to bear northeast, and run directly for it until the light-house bears southeast by east with the beach of St. Vincent's island close aboard, then haul up east by north, keeping on this course until inside both points of the entrance. The distance from the light-house to the entrance is from three to three and a half fathoms with good holding ground.

The beacon is white, and can readily be seen at the distance necessary to get the bearing. It is of the form of a pyramid, and neither of the pilot's rungs (which are of entirely different shape, and stand considerably to the westward) must be mistaken for it.

Very respectfully yours,
A. D. BAUER,
Supt. U. S. Coast Survey.
Hon. HOWELL COBB,
Secretary of the Treasury.

The Woman's Rights Convention.

The Woman's Rights Convention concluded last evening with a fine speech from Mr. George William Curtis, in which, while the right of women to suffrage was fully proved to be inherent in her humanity, and all the objections were fully answered, the Tract Society and James Buchanan received capital hits. A pernicious attempt to his Mr. Curtis down, was unsuccessful. During the day Mrs. Eliza T. Farnham offered a series of resolutions declaring that the partial and masculine civilization of the past has prepared the way for a higher civilization, which woman is fitted to achieve by her more complex organization, her greater delicacy of structure, and beauty of person, her superior endurance and heroism, and her higher capacity of harmony.—N. Y. Tribune, May 15.

An earnest soliloquy that the condition of laboring women may be speedily ameliorated, and a decided willingness that the fair sex, generally, may continue to enjoy a liberal allowance of rights and privileges, causes us to regard, with no meaner satisfaction, the adjournment of this Woman's Convention. It has done no good. It has dealt in no definite designs. But, by an odious nonchalance repeatedly displayed toward gross violations of the proprieties of public assemblies, and of common refinement and taste, it has disgusted many real friends of that cause of which it pretended to be the reliable champion.—Does it never occur to such brilliant reformers as Mrs. Eliza T. Farnham that the greatest freedom of speech, does not necessarily imply toleration of all sorts of nonsense? That immoderate extravagance in language and gesture is apt to provoke ridicule and contempt? The conduct of this particular lady reminds us forcibly of that devoted actor of Mr. Cummie's reminiscences, who, whenever cast in the character of Othello, with rather superfluous enthusiasm, snuffed himself from head to heel. But Mrs. Farnham was not alone. She only partook of the spirit of the entire Convention.—Meeting, ostensibly, to shed a benevolent and searching light upon the wrongs and claims of women, it has been content to spend its time in letting off useless, nasty fireworks.

THE LATE RAILROAD SLAUGHTER.—The full extent of the disaster of Tuesday, on the New York Central Railroad, has been ascertained. Eight persons were killed and many others injured. The coroner's jury is engaged in investigations into the cause of the disaster.

At and near Lexington, Ky., a stage coach was overturned on the railroad, killing several persons and wounding many others.

CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 14th.

The subject of a National Exchange, in connection with the Post Office Department, is now under consideration, here, in the proper quarters. The plan proposed is similar to that already in operation in England, and provides for depositing small amounts in specie in any of the principal post offices in the United States and drawing them by certificates at any other post office. To guard against defalcation and forgery the certificates are required to be increased the amount of their bonds according to the prospective business of the office, and a duplicate certificate of deposit is to be sent through the Post Office Department. Besides being a utilitarian measure for the people, it is intended as a revenue measure for Government, the rates of exchange being uniform, and considerably below the present average rates of the bankers. The Bill will be introduced next week, and will at first only embrace a few of the principal offices throughout the country, so as to keep the experiment free of embarrassment and within the easy control of the Department.

The fact has not been officially announced, but it is intimated in official circles that the negotiations for the interpretation and amendment of the Clayton Bulwer Treaty have failed, and that the mutual abrogation of the Treaty is to be the consequence. It is now well known here that the British Government have initiated measures for the negotiation of a match for the Cass Yrassart Treaty. This being the state of affairs, it is thought by many that the principles involved in the "Monroe Doctrine" are to take the place of the Clayton Bulwer Treaty, in our future relations with Great Britain. While our Government obtains from extending political control over the Isthmian Territory, it is certainly reasonable that she should require foreign powers to observe the same fair policy.

The Bill lately introduced in the Senate by Mr. Hunter, to curtail the Franchising Privilege, will probably never see the light again only long enough to be "laid on the table." Bills interfering with the established prerogatives of members, and curtailing their facilities of official influence with their dear constituents, we sometimes see introduced, but rarely see passed. If Mr. Hunter had proposed to enlarge this privilege, enormous and expensive to the country as it is, he would have stood a better chance for success.

The Quarantine and Sanitary Convention lately held at Baltimore, is undoubtedly to be the initiation of a movement of incalculable benefit to the country, and to all mankind. The comfort and health of city life as well as rural, is a subject worthy the attention of the noblest intellects and a happy era, no doubt, in the territory of the world, was the establishment by the American Medical Society on the 29th of April, 1857, of a system of annual Sanitary Conventions.

LINE TO A LADY.

By GEORGE PRENTICE.
Lady, I've pined on thee,
And thou art now a vision of the past;
A spirit star, whose holy light is cast
On memory's voiceless sea.
That star—it lingers there,
As beautiful as 'twere a daisy flower,
Soft-washed down from Eden's glorious tower,
And floating in mid air.
It is—that blessed one—
The day star of my destiny—the first
I ever worshipped as the Persian erst
Worshipped his own loved sun.
On all my years may lie
The shadow of the tempest, their dark flow
Be wild and drear, but that dear star will Glow
Still beautiful on high.

RUSSIAN SERFS.—

There are nearly twenty-one millions of serfs in Russia, about twelve millions of whom belong to the nobility and nine millions to the estates of the crown. The emperor proposes to manifest his interest in emancipation by making his own serfs free first. There are 127,000 land owners in Russia, of whom 2000 possess from 1000 to 10,000 serfs each, and the others smaller numbers. The immense numbers awaiting emancipation by the justice of the czar gives a grandeur to the event seldom witnessed in any former enterprise. Think of a population about as large as the United States, raised from personal degradation and chattelism, and that too by the great and absolute government of northern Europe, whose name has been the representation of absolute despotism for centuries. The greatness of the act does not seem to be appreciated.

THE DEATH OF AARON BERR'S DAUGHTER.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Enquirer, referring to the news item about the sailor dying in Texas, who confessed that he had been one of the pirates who had thrown overboard Mrs. Theodosia Alston, says:—"On reading this account I regarded it as a fiction, but, on contrasting it with its probable truth, and states that on one of his voyages home some years ago, his vessel brought two pirates in irons, who were subsequently executed at Norfolk, for recent offences, and who, before their execution, confessed that they had been members of the same crew, and participated in the murder of Mrs. Alston and her companions."

The following Certificate of

Dr. H. T. HELMHOUD—Dear Sir—I have been troubled with an affection of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried physicians in vain, and at last concluded to my power to make it known to the afflicted.

Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine, I am truly yours,

WASHING MACHINE!!!

Superior to Any in Use!

PATENTED MARCH 17TH, 1856.

THIS Machine is in point of fact the only Washing Machine now in use. It excels all others in thoroughness and speed. It is very compact, light, simple in its construction, and requires but very little power for its operation. It washes the clothes with as little and even less wear than by hand. It will wash the finest lace collar or a heavy bed blanket without any change or different arrangement of the Machine. It washes every article separately and clean, consequently requiring no finishing on the common wash board, as is the case with all the other machines.

In offering this machine for sale, we feel confident that we are offering no humbug, nothing but what we know to be a good and reliable Machine, and needs only to be used to be appreciated. We make the statement strong, and, if need be, can bring forward hundreds who will endorse the statement.

It is within the reach of every family; the price being only $6, and will pay for itself in a very short time. It is durable, and not liable to get out of order. It can be moved with as much ease as a common wash tub.
